

EXCERPTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS AT THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

May 31, 2004

This year has been a busy one in various areas and a few members of Council will be reporting on some of them. However, I would like to mention several.

This year MURA became a member of the recently formed College and University Retirees Association of Canada (CURAC). At the end of May, Helen Barton and I attended the Annual Meeting of this Association held at the University of Winnipeg. You will find a detailed report in this newsletter. Another area we are working on is involving more retirees in events of interest to McMaster. For example, we had four members of MURA involved in the Bay Area Science and Engineering Fair involving high school students from the surrounding area. It was a well attended event and the volunteers worked for two long days at Mohawk College. We are open to suggestions where we can be of service, but not in places where staff or students would be paid workers.

Please let me take this opportunity to thank Gerry Keech, John McCutcheon, Jack Evans and Nick Solntseff for their assistance during the year. I would also like to thank Dr. Peter George for his continuing support.

I am happy to report that we now have a nominated representative of the hourly paid retirees in the person of Rod Phillips. As you can see, we are not "just a social club" but a very active retiree organization. However, I must stress that the social part is very important as you will find out if you join one of the activities that Anne Sinclair plans for our benefit.

Finally, I urge you to get involved in MURA activities. We need your input and welcome your suggestions. Our office is at Gilmour Hall, room B108. Bonnie White is there on Thursdays, but messages can be left at 905-525-9140, extension 23171 on any day.

Letters to the editor

We would love to hear from you

THOUGHT YOU SHOULD KNOW THAT...

McMaster retirees are considered lucky and among the “fat cats”, according to their peers at other universities and colleges in Canada.

This is because Mac retirees enjoy very good benefits—at no cost.

Retirees at many places have very poor benefits compared to Mac. Many have to pay - or partially pay - for benefits. Only a few other Canadian universities are in the highest ranking “fat cat” group with Mac.

MURA's good relationship with the University also draws envy from its peers.

These findings came out of the 2nd Annual Conference of the College and University Retiree Associations of Canada (CURAC) in Winnipeg. McMaster retirees Mildred McLaren and Helen Barton attended the meetings in May.

MURA joined the fledgling national retirees' organization last year. So far 28 out of 93 institutions across Canada make up the national body.

Warnings were raised at the national conference about some Canadian university retirees experiencing a whittling away of benefits. It was stressed that all retiree groups maintain active representation with their universities to make sure that pension investment strategies are good, and that retirees are fully represented in all pension and benefits decisions.

CURAC is embarked on many projects. They include gathering and sharing the various ways retirees are represented on university bodies that deal with their interests, and researching the emerging law on retirees' rights to representation. The national body hopes to develop a few good models to share with member institutions.

Another initiative will focus on how universities and retiree organizations should treat and interact with retirees. As well, successful models for supporting staff and faculty who wish to continue professional, academic and service activities at their universities in retirement are being sought.

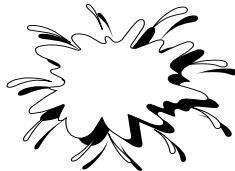

CURAC also believes that strong links should be made with other seniors groups such as the Canadian Association of Retired Persons (CARP) to promote services and policies for seniors, and to lobby governments regarding policies, legislation and programmes for seniors. Another area being watched is possible changes to rules and caps on pension surpluses.

Look for more on CURAC in future editions of MURAnews.

Some statistics that make you go hmm-m-m-m

- By 2011 seniors 55+ will be 27 per cent of the population in Canada, and over 30 per cent by 2016.
- Only about 30 per cent of seniors have computer access. Many seniors depend on care providers to get information from the internet.

NEWS ITEM FROM CURAC

Retired Academic Database (RAD)

Spreading the Word

RAD (Retired Academic Database) has been devised by the Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU) to utilize the large numbers of retiring academic and administrative staff to help fill vacancies at universities in the developing world. The scheme is thus aimed at helping universities and staff in developed and developing countries alike.

The RAD scheme was initially launched in September 2002, when the RAD web site went live. The RAD web site can be found at:

<http://www.acu.uk/adverts/rad>

RAD was formally launched at the ACU's General Conference in Belfast in September 2003. Universities from such countries as Botswana, Nigeria, Swaziland and the West Indies have now started using RAD for recruiting academic and administrative staff.

So far over 600 academic and administrative staff have registered to take part in the RAD scheme.

If you know of an organization or individuals who would benefit from knowing about RAD's work, please suggest they contact the RAD web site which is given above.

Any help or assistance will be much appreciated as the ACU is a charitable organization, and helping promote RAD helps many universities around the world.

Jocelyn Law is the Project Leader of the Retired Academic Database. RAD is supported by The Nuffield Foundation.

REPORT FROM ANNE SINCLAIR

54 of us enjoyed our "Taste of Niagara" trip on June 8th. It was a hot and humid day, but judging by the response, a good time was had by all.

Regarding the Alaska Cruise, which I mentioned in the April newsletter and on our recent trips, 15 people have already made their bookings and placed their deposits! A selection of cabins is available and prices vary according to your choice, so please do not delay in contacting me so we can calculate the cost of your deposit for your preferred accommodation.

Please mark the forthcoming events in your calendar:

1. Wednesday October 20, 2004:
"Hairspray", Princess of Wales Theatre
See flyer.
2. "Christmas in November"—Watch for announcement giving details of the upcoming Christmas trip in the next newsletter.
3. May 2005:
Alaska Cruise. See flyer and call Anne for details.

It is important for you to understand that the coach trips are filled on a "first come first served basis", so please call Anne as soon as possible to ensure a seat.

 Remember, cheques can be post-dated**
If we do not meet the minimum number of bookings by the deadline date for any of our activities, events have to be cancelled and the members who have already booked are disappointed. We so look forward to sharing these excursions with you and urge you to support our efforts by joining us.

Trips: We encourage and welcome all members who are able, and so wish, to attend any and all of our planned outings. However, please keep in mind that with our limited means, we are not able to provide special care beyond "courtesy assistance". We will provide, to the best of our knowledge, an assessment of the accommodations and physical difficulty associated with each outing. We ask that you realistically judge whether you should have a companion accompanying you to ensure your health, safety and personal needs. A contact will be given with each notice, where appropriate, for those with any doubts or concerns.
